

THE POWER TO LEARN

Teaching and learning: UFA Fellowship

An abstract graphic occupies the lower half of the page. It features a complex arrangement of swirling, overlapping lines in shades of yellow and red. Interspersed among these lines are several small, solid black dots and larger, textured, cloud-like shapes in yellow and red. The overall effect is one of dynamic movement and organic form.

'I am astounded by the impact of UFA on some of the young people I work with. They have much more confidence and are engaging and enjoying their learning'

www.ufa.org.uk

Who should attend:

Anyone who would like to develop a UFA in their organisation or local area and develop a focus on understanding learning, creativity and innovation. Participants can include teachers, library & museum staff, youth workers, personal advisers, learning mentors, classroom assistants, community & voluntary workers.

Learning objectives & course content:

- Understand the theories and practical tools to engage young people in learning
- Increase your own strategies for improving learning in your organisation
- Increase the range of opportunities for young people to focus on learning how to learn
- Inspire colleagues to achieve better outcomes from teaching and learning
- Understand how the UFA model can develop links between home school and community
- Build action research into everyday activities
- How does the brain learn and theories focusing on how to improve learning, including emotional intelligence

Duration: 5 days over three terms a year

Location: Delivered locally

Price: £135pp, per day (minimum of 12 people) or £8100 -£10,125 per course.

University of the First Age
St.Paul's Cottages
59/60 Water Street
The Jewellery Quarter
Birmingham B3 1EP

📞 0121 212 9838
📞 0121 212 9585
✉ ufa@ufa.org.uk
🌐 www.ufa.org.uk

To book training or direct delivery, please contact us.

Designed and produced in-house at The University of the First Age.
Registered Charity No. 1061308